STUDENT LIFE

Welcome Back Week!

After a long hot summer filled with everything from work, play, and summer classes, students returned to campus ready for a new semester and all the fun of Framingham State.
F.S.C. kicked off the fall semester with an All Campus Cookout, a Welcome Back Video Dance, and the usual scene of students socializing on the lawn, playing football on Larned Beach, and hanging out along the wall of the College Center.

Gone With The Wind

As part of the Homecoming celebration Framingham State honored the epic movie "Gone With The Wind". The celebration included a showing of the movie in Dwight and a horse drawn carriage which gave rides to the students of FSC. Members of the Class of '92, SGA, The Dial and SUAB dressed in period costumes which added a southern touch to the event. Everyone who attended was blown away.

The Reenactment

Another activity during Homecoming was the reenactment in Lexington. Framingham State was founded in Lexington in 1839 as the first normal school. The reenactment was to show how classes would have been like back then. It was a learning experience for those who attended and participated.

Open Mike Night

Open Mike Night was held in the Ram's Den Pub as part of Homecoming. The Concept of open mike is this . . . get up and do your thing, and that's what the students did. The talent presented was diverse and very entertaining. Songs, dance, dramatic readings and comedy, it was done all for those who attended the small but talent packed show. Some who performed have been seen at some Cafe Internationales that were held throughout the year, but for others it was their first time on stage. But, the time one has spent in front of a crowd doesn't matter. What mattered was the talent enjoyed by all.

Homecoming Volleyball

A little friendly competition was the order of the day during the Homecoming volleyball tournament. Larned Beach saw the heated battle between teams in the pursuit of being named the champion. When the dust settled The High Towers won the Tournament. Rick Buck, Aaron Souza, Brian DePrisco, Peter Scott, Yael Jacquel, Sean Mokeler and Derek Kenney made up The High Towers. Runners-up were the team of Mike Goodwin, Gorgette Green, Lee Krasnoo, Heidi Hasselbaum, Dan 'the man' Andonian and Keith Tannenbaum.

During Homecoming Week, resident students participated in the annual Residence Hall Decorating competition. This year's theme was 'Proud to be Making History," and that's exactly what each hall tried to do as they competed for first prize — and a chance to show their school spirit. Whether it was a futuristic class reunion in first place Linsley, a second place tribute in O'Connor of the Armed Forces, or a third place Tow-

Larned Hall also joined in as they dressed their hallway like a newspaper editorial room — a place where history was put to print. Peirce took a jump back to the 1960's to a mock forum where a discussion of possible male students at FSC took place. Fun was had by all. Congratulations to all who participated. C.S.

Sold-Out Semi!

Were you willing to pay $20 to go to the Semi-Formal? Students searched high and low to get their hands on tickets for the sold-out Semi. If you did manage to get your hands on one of those priceless tickets, it was well worth the investment. The sold-out Semi-Formal, sponsored by SUAB, was held at the Holiday Inn in Marlboro, where over 400 students partied to the sights and sounds of Electric Video 'til the wee hours of the night.

While some feasted on the buffet table in the dining room, those who were of legal age got to enjoy cocktails and a little conversation poolside at the bar.

Homecoming Football

Think of Homecoming and you think of The Semi-Formal, the street Fair, but most importantly you think of the FSC Ram's playing in the annual football game. This year the Ram's showed Westfield State what they are made of. The cheerleaders were able to give something extra with the addition of men to the squad. When the dust settled FSC suffered a heartbreaking defeat to Westfield 35 to 44. After the game, Alumni and present students consoled each other at the Post-Game Reception in the snackbar and pub.

Why Ask Why?

During October 15-19 Framingham State observed Alcohol Awareness Week. The week was filled with many different and interesting activities. During the whole week, students pledged to be dry either for the entire week, a couple of days, or just one day. The week started with the opening reception where the Alison Wrend Peer Education Award was dedicated. The award, which will be handed out yearly, is named for Alison Wrend who was a student at Framingham State. The week continued with Kicks, Kegs and Colleges. At this lecture, the students who attended listened and learned about how not to go overboard if they choose to drink. Later on in the week, the Classes of 92, 93, 94 and 95 went head to head in competition in Framingham Squares. Framingham State administrators and student leaders filled the squares and along with the audience, learned facts about alcohol and other related matters. The week came to a successful end with the "Why Ask Why, Pledge to be Dry" Dance which was held in the snack bar/pub.

FSC SCARES UP A GOOD TIME FOR HALLOWEEN!

At FSC, Halloween night was an exciting night. After the dorms had their parties, the place to go was the Forum and Commuter Cafe where Kane Hodder, who played Jason in the Friday the 13th movies, came and talked about his experiences in Hollywood.

Afterwards there was a dance. Almost 200 students gathered to dance in costumes and have a great time! Congratulations to SUAB for a job well done. Thank you for your efforts.

Holiday Bazaar

Students at Framingham State College were able to get some help with their Christmas shopping courtesy of the annual holiday bazaar. For two days in December the Forum was transformed into a haven for the shopper in all of us. There were many items in which to choose from. Things such as hair care products, jewelry, dried flowers and wreaths. Arts and Crafts and AfricanAmerican items were also available. Many campus organizations used to bazaar to promote the holiday spirit and raise money for their clubs at the same time. The Class of '95 offered a prize to the person who could guess the number of M & M's in the jar, the psychology club let you send a rubber rat to a friend, the Class of '92 sold winter gloves and joined with the Dial to offer students the chance to get their picture taken with Santa Claus. Weary shoppers helped themselves to a cup of hot apple cider which made shopping more fun.

Fashion Show

Culture in Effect with the help of SGA put on a fashion show. Those who were in the audience were treated to a fashionable feast for the eyes. MC Dawn Mays presented the models and introduced the entertainment. All types of fashion from casual to formal to bridal were shown.

Kwansaa Ball

One highlights of Culture in Effect's year was the Kwansaa Ball which was held this year on December 6th in the Forum. For those not in the know, Kwansaa is a seven day celebration of the African-American heritage. During this time principles such as unity, creativity, faith and purpose are celebrated. The Ball gave the members of Culture in Effect a chance to celebrate these values, their heritage and what it means to them.

Winter Cotillion

The Class of '94 sponsored this year's Winter Cotillion which was held in the Snack Bar and Pub. Decorated in pink, silver, black the snack bar seemed transformed. A DJ provided music that set the groove for the night. Whether in the snack bar or pub, those who went enjoyed themselves.

Blood Drive

This fall SGA sponsored a blood drive which was held in the Forum. The drive organized by Amy Harmon and Diane Shilowski brought in over 30 pints of much needed blood donated by the students and staff of Framingham State. The Red Cross volunteers were on hand to check in donors, register the blood given and provide cookies and juice to bring the donors back on their feet. For some it was their first time donating, for others it was a part of their effort to do something for their fellow man. Either way it all comes out in the end.

Black History Month

Black History Month which was celebrated in February, paid respect the African-American contributions to history and to the campus. Events included several panel discussions, Black History Jeopardy, a bazaar, which featured goods hand crafted by African Americans and a gala dinner which had everyone up and dancing to a Jazz beat. The humanities department sponsored a lecture by Harvey Gant, which made everyone think. It was one of the most successful Black History Month's in FSC history.

Slam Dunk Contest

This Spring, Culture in Effect with the Class of 92 sponsored a slam dunk contest. Along with trying to impress the judges with the best slam dunk, the contestants also participated in a free throw contest. Joining the students in the competition were members of the New England Patriots. Trophies were given to the winners of the contest.

Framingham State's all time favorite, The Cape Cod Travelin' All Stars, hit the stage and wowed the Senior class with their renditions of the "Brady Bunch Theme," "Margaritaville," and "Brown Eyed Girl." The crowd went wild and some even got a chance to take a turn up at mike. 92 days down, 91 to go!

Soaring to New Heights

Louise, Brian, Rick, and Michelle enjoy a night to remember.

On April 10, 1992, the Senior Class enjoyed a romantic evening of dinner and dance at the Boston Longwharf Marriot. The theme for the Senior Ball was "Soaring to New Heights," and for the Class of 1992, nothing could have stopped them from partying the night away. With both a live band and a D.J., everyone's tastes were met. Some seniors chose to spend the night at the Longwharf and enjoy the Boston nightlife or a day of sightseeing on Saturday.

RAM-AID

The Annual RAM-AID was held this year in Dwight Auditorium with the theme "The United Colors Of F.S.C." This year saw a small but talented group of lip syncers. However, the students weren't the only present that night, comic John Stetson served as MC for the event. John performed magic tricks and kept the crowd entertained between acts. When all was said and done the Gold Medal went to "The Sweettarts Again" who wowed the crowd with their version of the Barry Manilow classic. "Copacabana." Congratulations to them and a job well done to the other acts and everyone else who helped put on a great show.

SANDBOX

Every year FSC celebrates spring with the annual Sandbox celebration. This year Sandbox was expanded from a weekend to a week. This made the event more exciting and gave the students more to do. Events included a Rugby game against WPI, a dance sponsored by the Class of 1995, a performance by the Metro Steel Orchestra, the annual Ram Aid competition and the traditional street fair. There was also a Bar-B-Que where students could play miniature golf or test their pitching speed. The week ended with Rob Schiender, Ellen Cleghore, and David Spade from Saturday Night Live performing in Dwight Hall. The United Colors Of FSC proved to be an exciting and successful week.

Hilltop Players — Talent Show

The Hilltop Players helped present to Framingham State some of the talented students on campus via their talent show. As their program started it was an evening of non-stop entertainment. There was something for everyone. MC Lois Anne Moalli introduced singers, dancers, actors, musicians, soloist, duets, and groups. Each had their own style to bring to the audience that came during the three days in which the show ran.

The Hilltop Players for their spring production performed Manage A Trios which was touted as an evening of sex and comedy. The production lived up to it's billing. The first of the events of the program, "He's Having A Baby", explored what would happen if men had the babies. "Final Dress Rehearsal", was based on the last rehearsal of the play Cinderella, but with a different angle. "Sexual Perversity In Chicago" was funny with a little bit of the risque thrown in for good measure.

Awards and Recognition Ceremony

Each Spring, towards the end of the academic year, time is set aside for the purpose of honoring student leaders. This year the ceremony occurred on April 26th. Awards were given out and special recognition was paid to those students who had achieved academic excellence and who were involved in co-curricular activities at Framingham State. The awards represented a cross-section of the campus and demonstrated the wide variety of scholarly pursuits and student endeavors in which undergraduates became involved and excelled in during their college years. The life and well-being of the college depends to a great extent on the commitment and enthusiastic participation of the students who were honored at this ceremony.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Class of 1993

The Class of 1993 were a busy bunch of people this year. Under the close eye of President Beckie Clairmont, the junior class put on events that entertained the entire campus. The biggest of these was Karoake night, which gave students a chance to show us how talented they were. During Sandbox they held a 50/50 raffle which netted the winner almost $40.00. An annual junior tradition was founded this year with the Mr. FSC pageant, which pitted the best men on campus against each other to see who would win the crown. Members of the Class of 1993 Exec board are: Beckie Clairmont (President), Marianne D'Amico (Vice-President), Cheryl Silva (Secretary), Nicole Bessette (Treasurer), Karen Palsic, Wendy Caparo, Amy Harmon, and Dawn Mays. The only year that could top this year will be their senior year.

Class of '94

The Class of 1994 was on the move this year participating in many events. The class celebrated the Homecoming spirit by selling corsages and boutonnieres for the Semi-formal. End of the semester blues were blown away with the re-introduction of the annual Winter Cotillion which transformed the Snackbar and Pub into a festive, formal club atmosphere. The Spring semester was highlighted by members of the Class tucking in the campus and reading bedtime stories to FSC resident students as a fundraiser!! Class members also participated in a host of leadership training programs and activities which have prepared the board to lead the class to greater heights in their FINAL TWO YEARS AT FSC!!!

They came to FSC a year ago unsure of the future, they quickly learned the ropes and became one of the most active freshman classes to date. The Class of '95 exec board first became known for winning the Framingham Squares during Alcohol Awareness Week. During the Holiday Bazaar they gave students a chance to guess the number of M & M's in the jar an win a prize. The winner Roberta Edwards was only 69 off. During Sandbox they joined together with the class of 1992 to sell T-shirts which listed the top 10 lies at FSC and sponsored a dance. We wish them the best of luck for the future.

The 2nd annual Win, Lose, or Crawl, sponsored by BACCHUS, took place during Safe Spring Break Week to provide not only a night of fun, but a night of information and facts about the effects of alcohol. The game consisted of a drinking team and a non-drinking team. After each round, the players of the drinking team would be given sobriety tests by Campus Police. Breathalizers checked the blood alcohol content while walking the line and touching one's nose proved to the audience and the players that alcohol was not only taking its toll on the drinker, but on the game itself. Although the drinkers were ahead at the beginning of the game, they didn't win, and they might've crawled, but they definitely lost.

STUDENT UNION ACTIVITIES BOARD

If you attended an event on campus chances are it was planned by Student Union Activities Board also known as SUAB. Not only is it one of the largest clubs on campus it's also the most active. SUAB sponsored events almost weekly throughout the year. The high points of the year for SUAB were the sold out Homecoming events and Sandbox. Events throughout the year included comedians, contest and trips to New York and Kittery, Maine. The members of SUAB work hard to bring these programs to us, and should be congratulated on a good year.

Smile
I know it isn't easy
When things look bleak and dark
To curl my lips and tell my eyes
It's time for them to spark!
But when smiling on the outside
Will warm my insides so,
My smile will make another smile
Then two smiles will glow!
So through life's troubles I ride
Behind a smiling face.
I smile and pass it warmly on,
And make a better place.

There Are No Winners . . .

. . . Only Survivors. That was the motto this year for the FSC Rugby Club. If you have ever been to a game you know how true this is. Although rugby is not considered a sport here on campus, the men on the team work just as hard if not harder for the win. If you have never been to a game, you don't know what you've been missing. Rugby can only be described as football without helmets or protective gear. This not only makes the game more dangerous, but also makes it more exciting for the spectators on the sidelines.

Working hard for the win isn't all that the Rugby Club is known for. Twice a year the players do their part to raise money for the club through Rent a Rugger. Each player is auctioned off to the highest bidder. He must then do what his buyer tells him to do for three hours. Mr. FSC John McCarthy was sold for an amazing $60. Freshman players, however, were sold for around $5. Don't think that these men don't work hard for their money; they do. For example, Jeff Campbell, who was sold for $5.00, was forced to clean Foster Hall, top to bottom. Never let it be said that these men don't work hard for their team because whether on the field or off, they do.

Residence Halls

For many of the students of FSC the dence halls became a major part of the lege career. Each hall has a distinct pe ality and own sense of community, a which was brought about, in large par
the residence hall staffs and hall go ments.

Foster Hall

Foster Hall is the smallest residence hall on campus with only 19 residents. Being so small enabled the residents to become very close. This year one side of Foster was substance free for those students who wanted surroundings free of alcohol, drugs and smoking. Although it was very quiet most of the time Foster did have it's moments when several residence awoke to find their doors papered as well as participating in many squirt gun fights.

Horace Mann

Horace Mann with the reputation of being one of the quieter residence halls on campus, houses approximately 150 females in single rooms. Although it has it's moments of chaos, it is still popular with those who want the quiet of home, but still want to make strong friendships with other students.

RA's, Traci Johnson, Nicole Lutts, Tamara Messier, Gorgette Green, RD.

Hall Gov't, Kerry White, Pam Alden, Traci Johnson, Tara Hamelin, Jessica Morse.

Linsley Hall

Linsley went through many changes this year. The closing of three floors made the sense of community even stronger than ever before. Linsley was also announced as the sight of the new upperclassmen transitional hall. Being slightly off the beaten track Linsley has one of the closest resident population on campus.

Phil Van Arnem RA, Debbie Dolin RD, Robin Harris RA, Lonnie Cole RA.

Hall Gov't, Ann Bruha, Andrea Cohen, Courtney Cameron, Dawn Gephart, Paul McPhail, Deb Dolin.

Peirce Hall

Peirce Hall is often known as the "sister" residence hall to Horce Mann because it is a single, all women hall, but that is where the similarities end. For the approximately 125 women who live in Peirce move to the beat of a different drummer. If one was to stroll through the hall one will see the women doing every thing from homework in the hallways to popping microwave popcorn to catching up on their soaps in the lobby. Although the residents live in single rooms strong friendships were formed and Peirce Hall has become the choice for those who want a quiet, friendly atmosphere.

O'Connor is best known for being the home of Health Services, but it is more than that. It is the home for around 200 women. Although one wing of the hall was closed it still remained popular for those who live there. RA's, Jill Dolan, Kathleen Kiley, Amy McKinstry, Rene Norquary, Kelli Pastor, Rachel Pearson, Carrie Ryan, Deb Swanbeck, Debbie Zeoli.

Under the close eye of Head Coach Cynthia Souza, the FSC Volleyball team captured the Massachusetts State College Athletic Conference (MASCAC) regular and post season championship for the 1991 season. Co-Captains Christina DiMarco and Cheryl Sheehan led the team to a winning season. The team had 25 Wins and 6 Losses overall and a clean sweep of their five MASCAC games. Each member of the team displayed great enthusiasm and spirit even during their losses. Their hard work and dedication were repaid with the championship. Congratulations go out to everyone.

As a team, victory can be earned by two means. Firstly, a team could win all it's games and call itself successful. Secondly, but by no means less importantly, a team could learn the values of teamwork and place the "victory" on what was learned rather than what place they held amongst other teams. The Men's Soccer team at FSC did not leave the field this year as the "number one" team in their division. But the lessons they learned and practice they received have taken them further than where a winning record could have. They learned the value of teamwork, the irreplaceable virtue of hard work, and the ability t take a loss here and there while tryin to better their skills for next season. Th team was lead by head coach, Sid Maz zola, and his assistant, Dennis Rudd The players, as they consisted of mostl freshman and sophomores, will only fe the loss of one of their fellow team mates, senior Paul Deshler, next yea The coming of the new season look promising to FSC with the hopeful re turn of most of this year's veterans t the team. Congratulations to all th players on this years team!

This year's Field Hockey team had their share of ups and downs. This year the team came oh-so-close to having a winning season with a 7-8 record overall and a 3-3 record within the Massachusetts State College Athletic Conference. An up for the team came when they beat the team from Bridgewater State for the first time. But with this up came the down of losing a tough game to Westfield State in overtime. The team was led by seniors Missy Frommer and Cheryl O'Connell, who were instrumental in scoring along with Veronica Gibbs and Kerri Anastas. Another bright spot in the team was the goalie, Nancy Killelea, who was pretty impressive with 6 shutouts out of 7 wins. Sounds like this team will get a winning season very soon.

With legendary player and coach Togo Palazzi at the helm for the 1991-92 Framingham State College men's basketball season, the sail was far from a smooth one, but the positive results were clearly evident.

Palazzi, the former Holy Cross and Celtics' star, instilled a demanding, disciplined, and hard-working ethnic into a group that had been lacking those qualities in recent seasons.

The Rams dismissed many sour preseason expectations and responded with a more than respectable 15-11 record. More importantly, the Rams regained some respect from the other institutions in the Massachusetts State Conference. Framingham had been a perennial doormat in the MASCAC, compiling five consecutive losing seasons in their league.

1991-92 was a different campaign. The Rams earned a 7-5 regular season conference mark while finishing in third place. Framingham then degeated Bridgewater State (quarterfinals) and Westfield State (semi-finals) in the conference's post season tournament before succumbing to nationally ranked and MCAA tournament bound Salem State in the finals.

Three FSC players were recognized by the conference for their outstanding efforts: Senior Illya Nicholas was selected to the first all-star team. Junior James President and freshman Vic Koytikh were each named to the second team.

Hockey: A Season To Remember

Charlie Peacock and Dan Bernazzani get ready to hop on the ice.

The 1991-1992 hockey season had an outstanding first semester. Framingham soared to third place in the league landing right behind Assumption and Fitchburg. This was only the first of many surprises. Once again F.S.C. came out winning when they topped the ranks in the MASCAC. The second semester was not such a smooth ride for F.S.C., but the Rams battled it out and managed to make it to the playoffs. Framingham beat Tufts (3-0) and fought hard against Fitchburg State to win (7-4). This successful team placed number three in the playoffs and ended the year with a 16-9 record that would make any F.S.C. fan proud.

The baseball team had a good season ending the year with a respectable 20-16 record. This record came about with the combination of the hard work of players such as Scott Faessler who ended the season with a .420 average and Noel Frattasio and his .408 average and big wins against Worcester State, Curry College and Fitchburg State. Although a quarter of the team is graduating, this team will continue to produce winning seasons.

The Framingham State Cheerleading team has dynamic new look this semester, as evidenced the impressive performance they delivered at e Homecoming football game. Twenty-one nletes now constitute the squad, making the neerleading team one of the largest athletic ms in existence here at FSC.

This large number is due mostly to the ad-ion of six men to the previously all-female uad, and an increase in the number of alter-tes, both of which will allow a much wider d more impressive variety of stunts and moves be performed, and will improve the overall ality of the team.

The addition of men to the team has given squad a new dimension, allowing a greater gregation of roles and skills.

"Last year when the squad was all-female, ch woman had to learn both to base and to on top." said a former team member. "No tter what their strength level was, each athlete d to learn to do everything." Now, most of the basing, lifting, and throwing will be performed by the men, with the women doing the majority of the dancing, climbing, and flipping.

Under the coaching skills of Keith Tannenbaum, who has been with the team since the fall 1990 season, the team has acquired a much sharper, more collegiate style, and with the addition of a new coach, the team will hopefully reach new levels of performance and skill.

Unknown to many, Cheerleading actually incorporates the more crucial elements of several sports into one discipline, making it an incredibly dynamic and challenging sport to conquer.

"Gymnastics and acrobatic moves such as Russians and pike or layout flips, as well as tumbling skills such as back handsprings, are an integral part of college cheerleading routines," states one current team member. Cheerleading also incorporates many weightlifting elements, and contains features borrowed from aerobic dance and ballet, which often require large amounts of coordination and timing.

In spite of the fact that the Homecoming game was the team's first game as a complete squad, their repertory of moves already included complicated skills such as chairs, extended lifts, pike and Russian basket-tosses, as well as a basket-toss into a forward tuck.

"The tosses and lifts were really eye-catching." commented one spectator.

"The overall quality of the Cheerleading team has definitely improved over the past two seasons," stated another football fan. This gradual and noticeable improvement has been in motion for the past year, and will hopefully continue to increase through the current fall season and into the winter season, as the FSC Cheerleading squad keeps up its amelioration and progress.

Cheering for the home team.

I AM THE KEY

"I Can" is a beginning, a place for me to start
To build that new tomorrow that lives down in my heart.
My words are most important but my action is what counts.
Success is measured, not in pounds, but usually by the ounce.
My engine of success is powered, it is, oh, so clear to see,
By the fuel that's called commitment, and I know that I am the key! — The "Original" Mike Smith

Life's Not Fair

Isn't it neat that life's not fair
so that I can earn a share
In how I feel and Where I go so when I'm down, I truly know
That it matters not — the times I fall
It's the times I rise to meet the call.
It's not the times life knocks me down
It's getting back up that earns the crown!
The lesson here's a simple one when all things are said and done
It's not in life the things I get but what I choose to do with it!
— The "Original" Mike Smith

Senior Kickoff

They've waited for it since 1988 . . . patiently waiting anticipating it's arrival and now it's finally come, their senior year. The Class of 92 celebrated their last year at FSC by partying at the Senior kickoff. The snackbar was open to dancing and a cash bar, while those who chose not to dance sat in the pub reminiscing with friends.

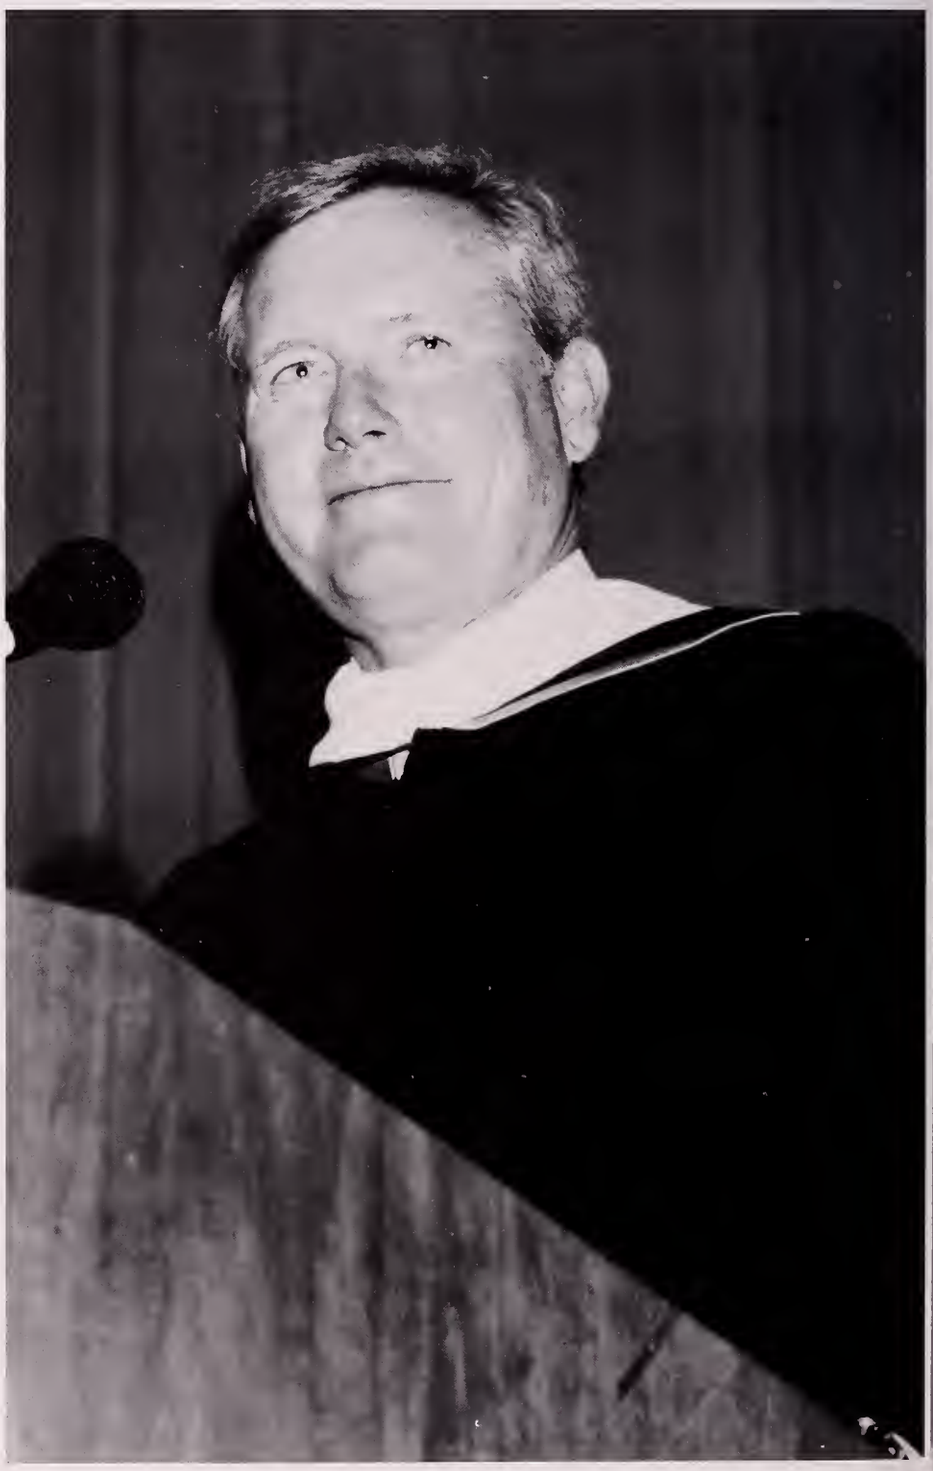
Senior Investiture

Keynote Speaker — Jack Williams



At Investiture Convocation seniors are attired for the first time in their academic robes. The donning of academic attire calls to mind the revival of interest in learning which took place in Europe in the eleventh and twelfth centuries when the custom of academic robing began in such medieval universities as Bologna, Paris and Oxford. In a ceremonial way, Framingham State College seniors in this convocation join the ranks of countless thousands of students from these and other historic universities. Today, as in medieval times, academic robes serve as symbols of office or honor and as a reminder of the commitment and the rewards of academic life. After enjoying a delicious brunch, seniors lined up in their Graduation robes to participate in their Senior Investiture. Class President, Joe Lee, challenged seniors to make this the best year they could and to leave FSC saying, "I'm glad I did that and I'm glad I joined that." After a touching introduction by Wednesday's Child and Class of '92 Executive Board Member Al Spittler, Keynote Speaker Jack Williams was presented with an FSC Rams watch and Class of '92 t-shirt at a reception immediately following the ceremony.

Senior Week

Senior Week '92 was not like anything FSC has ever seen before. There was something for everyone. It began with a three day excursion to Portland, Maine. Over one hundred students gave up their Memorial Day barbecues to make the trip. Upon arrival to Portland, a 23-hour cruise to Nova Scotia awaited. The Scotia Princess was equipped with casinos, dancing, movies and much, much more. The only thing it lacked was time to sleep. When the ship pulled into port, everyone was brought to the second destination of the trip. The Sonesta Hotel, located in the Old Port, was ready to supply a steady night sleep to those who were not used to the rocking of the Scotia Princess. The group did not take long to catch a second wind and head to Erich's Pub in the Old Port, where they were catered to for the entire evening. It was a worn out group that arrived back in Framingham the following day. Despite the lack of sleep, a great time was had by all.

The real kick-off to Senior Week '92 was held at Ebenezer's on Wednesday nite. The Loft had been reserved for FSC seniors. Talk about being catered to — there was free food everywhere, all night! If you could push thru all of the people and move from one level to another, you were able to see any one of the hundreds of seniors that were celebrating their completion of college. And if you stayed the whole night and tried to ride the bus back to FSC, you were treated to a leisurely walk under the stars when the bus broke down.

Graduation Rehearsal went off without a hitch, as seniors took their place in line. This was the first time that the graduating class had been seated in Dwight like this since their Orientation days. From there, those last minute shoppers picked up their caps and gowns, while others went to decorate their caps with words of thanks to special people, while still others got themselves ready for FSC's favorites — the Cape Cod Travelin' All-Stars!!! Not only did seniors sing-a-along with the band, but they also got "very sleepy" with Hypnotist Jim Spinnatos. Everyone had a chance to be hypnotized and then later rolled on the floor laughing at the antics of about ten of the "sleepiest" seniors. It is hard to decide which was more funny — FSC football captain, Scott Raynes be transformed into "The Boss, Bruce Springsteen" or seeing the entire group "Walk Like an Egyptian"!! It was a night for some to remember, and for others to forget, thankfully!!

The Tent in Quincy hosted an all-day, all-night beach party for the Class of '92. During the day, there were two barbecues, volleyball, basketball, music and games. Seniors enjoyed the beautiful weather and relaxed to the music of DJ Mike Janedy's Music Etc. But when the sun went down, The Tent was hopping. Seniors were dancing and singing non-stop. There was a hula-hoop contest, where senior Mike "Monkey" Elliot took away a vinyl "Welcome FSC to The Tent" sign. There were shirts and hats thrown out to the crowd. There was the ever popular "YMCA", featuring FSC's very own. It was a great night and for those who missed it, there's only one way to describe it — "Oh, What a Night!"

With Saturday, everything slowed down while seniors got ready for their families to arrive. In the morning the Executive Board dedicated a tree to the town in a traditional ceremony. The tree is planted on the Village Green where the Commencement Exercises take place. The second ceremony of the day was the Class Gift Dedication. A welcome sign was dedicated to the College from not only the Class of 1992, but also the Class of 1991. It is sure to be a spot for many pictures in the years to come. The last ceremony of the day was the Baccalaureate Ceremony. The Class had the difficult task of choosing speakers. The Keynote Speaker was someone very special in the Class. Kelly Krebs had been their advisor for two years before leaving his position at FSC to take a position in Minneapolis. To insure that Kelly be a part of their graduation, they thought it would be appropriate to give him a job to do. And he did it well. Other speakers included Father John Culloty, Class Vice-President Ginny Hall, Faculty Member of the Year Joe McCaul, Executive Board Member April Richard, Class Advisor Elinor Fagone, and Reverand Mark Ferrin. The Class marched in a candle processional to "It's So Hard to Say Good-Bye". After many laughs and a lot more tears, everyone headed over to the College Center for the Senior Family Dinner Dance. People danced off their delicious meals to the tunes of Peter Carabillo of Soundwarp. There was more than just the "Electric Slide" though, there was musical chairs, limbo, "Going to the Chapel", and many special dedications. It was a very special way to end the week.

An Evening at Ebenezer's!!!

Doug & Steve are on their way in the yellow school bus.

Picture three floors wall to wall with Framingham State students eating, drinking, singing and laughing the night away. That was Ebenezer's on Wednesday night May 27th.

For those who went on the cruise to Nova Scotia, this was like a welcome home party; the peak of Senior Week. For those who remained on land this was just the beginning.

Buses left campus every half hour bringing more and more students to Ebenezer's where all the fun was to be had. Free appetizers kept on coming to satisfy those hungry F.S.C. partiers who couldn't get enough. And for the finishing touches to a great night, those who chose to ride the yellow school bus home had a slight delay when the buses broke down on the short, but eventful ride home.

hese five look like Ebenezer's regulars.

Cheryl — prepared for a good time as usual.

Renee and Katie always know where the action is!!!

"You, over there you're next."

"OH, my God I forgot the words to the Brady Bunch theme song."

"If my Mom could see me, she'd be so proud."

All-Stars

It's So Hard To Say Goodbye . . .

On May 30th, the Class of 1992 celebrated their Baccalaureate Ceremony in Dwight Auditorium among family and friends. The seniors entered the auditorium in a candle light procession to the song, "It's So Hard To Say Goodbye." The keynote address was given by Kelly Krebs, the former F.S.C. Program Coordinator, who stressed the need for having a "personal mission." "The greatest gift you can give the universe is being who you really are. It's the whole point of living, figuring out your place in life."

The ceremony was brought to a close by the Sharing of Flowers and the Class Reflection. Seniors went into the audience, thanking those closest to them with a yellow rose, a symbol of their gratitude. And finally, Elinor Fagone, the Senior Class Advisor, reflected on the past year and of course on Senior Week.

Ginny Hall, Vice-President, welcomes everyone to Baccalaureate.

Class advisor, Elinor Fagone, reflects back on the final year for the Class of 1992.

Sharing more than just a rose at the "Sharing of Flowers" ceremony.

Keynote speaker, Kelly Krebs, leads the candle light procession.

ril Richard, a member of the executive board, gives the second reading.

The world is as big as your dreams,
so you must never stop dreaming.

The future is as bright as your hopes,
so you must never stop hoping.

Your life is as full as your faith,
so you must never stop believing.

Leaving Their Mark

Two people who have really made their mark here at Framingham State College are leaving along with the Class of 1992. Father John Culloty and Vice-President for Academic Affairs Dr. Madeleine Adler have taken positions away from FSC. Father John will be taking a position as Pastor at St. Bridget's parish in South Boston. Although he will not be far, he will certainly be missed. Father John was College Chaplain for 7 years. You could always find Father John with students, whether it was in the College Center, or the Residence Halls or at football games, or at the Bahamas with the Rugby team, or where else, but telling a joke at Mass. He was always there for students — for support or advice. Father John organized many trips to Haiti with students from both Framingham State College and Wellesley College. Students were able to witness first-hand the unfortunate poverty that is allowed in that country. They were also able to help out in orphanages and visited different hospitals to lend a hand. The experience to the students can be phrased in no other way but "incredible."

Dr. Madeleine Adler has taken a position as President of Westchester College in Pennsylvania. Dr. Adler was not the type of administrator to sit in her office in the Executive Suite and never venture out. She was often seen with students and faculty alike. Students would meet her upon coming to Orientation, when she would discuss with them what it took to be a successful student at Framingham State College. They would also meet her upon Graduation. Dr. Adler had the great honor of reading off the names of the undergraduate degrees at Commencement. She prides herself in saying everyone's name correctly, and spends most of graduation weekend rehearsing each and every graduates' name phoenetically. At Commencement this year, it was a very touching moment when it was announced that both Dr. Adler and Father Culloty were going to be leaving. We wish them both much success with their new endeavors, and hope that they will both visit frequently.

Dear Son,

As you go through life and achieve great success please remember these words:

Wash your feet and hair and brush your face, or is it; Brush your face and feet and wash your teeth or; Wash your teeth and face and brush your feet.

Well you know who you are and what I mean.

Dear Patrons,

The DIAL staff would like to thank all of you who supported the 1992 yearbook. It is because of your great generosity that we were able to make this book possible. We hope that you enjoy your edition of the 1992 DIAL as much as we've enjoyed bringing it to you.

Thank You

August 4, 1992

The day has arrived the 1992 Dial is finished. For a while I thought this day would never arrive. I started the year with two goals, 1) to meet all my dealines 2) to produce the best book I could. Well I met two dealines and whether my second goal was met its up to you. It's taken a lot of hard work and a lot of mistakes were made and I ask for you to forgive me.

I'd like to thank everyone who helped with the venture, Joe Lee and The Class of 1992, SGA, the Athletics office, and The Gatepost. Special thanks to our Herff Jones representative, the ever patient Dick Swiech. I hope I made it a little easier than last year, and everyone at Yearbook Associates especially Steve Williams and The "Great" Norm Benrimo. Extra special thanks to Dial advisor Elinor Fagone, who deserves more credit than she thinks, Managing Editor Sandra Piccolo, I enjoyed working with you over the last year, I wish you the best of luck for the future and the small but hard working Dial Staff, I couldn't have done it without you. Lastly I'd like to thank my future husband Mike Fielding, my Foster family, Russell Lahti, Matt Nathan, Renee McKeeman, Karen Hoyt, Lisa Bonsey, Jeff "TP" Willey, and Karen "Peanut" Tyler without all of your support I don't think I would have made it.

I wish everyone in the Class of 1992 the best of luck and hopes for success in the future.

Sincerely,

Roberta Edwards
